How does the Clever Coupler BENEFIT INSTALLERS?

-  Prevents flux contamination when typically cutting out faulty equipment (soldered sockets upstream and downstream).
-  Minimal loss of corrosion inhibitor when replacing equipment and limiting further problems thereafter.
-  Limits time and system disruption on site for asset owner and engineer.
-  Removes all the associated problems with compression joints – over tightening, micro leaks, the inability to move pipes or equipment after installation.
-  Prevents drain downs, risk of air locks or loss of system water when fitting lever valves directly onto stubs provided.
-  Allows the removal and servicing of the integrated strainer within combination valves remotely, preventing leaks from stressing out factory fitted compression joints in situ.
-  5 seals over 2 compared to a typical compression joint.
-  22mm and 28mm service kits comprising of 2 x WRAS approved fibre washers and 4 x WRAS approved O rings and WRAS approved silicone lubricant grease sachet (to be used each time equipment is replaced).
